

Mixed Berry Cheesecake

Ingredients

300g / 12oz	Digestive or ginger biscuits
100-125g / 4-5oz	Butter
300ml (or a carton)	Double cream or Elmlea (lower fat)
250g / 10oz	soft cheese
1 Lemon , juice only	Icing sugar to taste
300-400g / 12oz-1b	mixed berries any combination

Method

1. Melt the butter and add to the finely crushed biscuits.
2. Press down into a base lined 8" loose bottomed tin. Chill.
3. Whisk the cream until fairly stiff.
4. Mix the soft cheese with the lemon juice.
5. Fold into the cream.
6. Add icing sugar to taste.
7. Chill for at least 2 hours.
8. Turn out onto a plate.
9. Decorate with berries of your choice.
10. Dust with icing sugar.

MAKING HAY WHILE THE SUN SHINES!

June 2014 has been a good hay making month with thousands of bales produced. Local farmer Maggie Warton, whose field is pictured above, said 'I am thrilled with my hay crop this year. It was a nervous time deciding when to cut and would it stay dry for a week. Thankfully this year, the weather was perfect. As the hay will be fed to my horses, it needs to be reasonably dust free and the small bale hay not too heavy. This years crop was just right and the horses will love it'.

Cllr Phil Parsons who is also a farmer, explained why it is important to ensure that hay is properly dried. 'If the hay is not fully dried and contains green grass inside the bale there is a risk that the grass will warm up and get hot enough to ignite the dry grass or other bales in the stack.'

Remembering the Fallen

By the time this issue of the Parish Magazine comes through your letter box, it is hoped you will have received a copy of 'Remembering South Petherwin's Fallen'. In this Great War centenary year, communities throughout the Commonwealth are remembering those of their ancestors who went to war in what turned out to be the most destructive and deadly conflict the world had seen to date. With the help of the booklet it is hoped that parishioners will spare a thought for the young men of South Petherwin who left their family and friends, their homes and their jobs, to fight and never return, and their loved ones who grieved for them.

The booklet does not seek to provide a detailed history of the fallen but only to raise the image of those young men who went to school, Sunday school, church, worked on the farms, and walked the countryside around us. Maybe after reading it, you may pass Tregillis and Honiton on the way to Liskeard and think for a moment about George Harris who lived and worked for the Langmans at Tregillis, or Fred Jasper who worked on the family farm at Honiton. Seeing The School House may bring to mind Harold Gunner who lived there and another Harold who lived at Petherwin Water.

For those with an enquiring mind this may be a starting point in a quest to find out more about a relative or family friend. More and more information is being made available and added to by individuals who have put together the stories of not only those who died in the war but those who returned with the dreadful knowledge of what they had been through. If you wish to research your relatives and need help or pointers to get you started please call Peter Bailey on 01566 774818 for a chat.

World War 1 Memorial Service

There will be a short service to mark 100 years since the outbreak of WW1 in the church on Sunday 4th August at 6pm. During this service a small memorial area will be unveiled. Then, over the next four years, on the centenary anniversary of each of the fallen from the village a specific memorial for each soldier will be placed in the area. Everyone is welcome to attend the service.

'Stand Clear—Shocking!'

Sue Vernon describes a recent event in the village hall where a defibrillator was demonstrated and it's value to the community explained.

'Stand Clear-shocking.' That was the call heard in the village hall on the evening of Friday 27th June, when a defibrillator demonstration was given by Launceston Medical Centre minor injuries nurse Pete Wyatt, assisted by nurse practitioner Carol Jackson, and Steve Matthews from the ambulance service. Twenty three parishioners attended, and most took the opportunity to have their blood pressure and blood glucose checked. Then they were allowed a cup of tea or coffee and cake and biscuits – no one wanted a false reading by taking on board too much sugar before the tests! There was a lively and interested atmosphere in the hall as we waited for the demonstration to begin.

Then a life sized torso appeared on the floor and Pete showed us how to carry out CPR correctly– pressing harder than you might expect to the rhythm of 'Staying alive' (remember the Vinnie Jones advert?) whilst waiting for help in the form of a defibrillator (or ambulance) to arrive. As soon as the defibrillator case is opened it 'talks', instructing the first aider to apply two pads to the patient's chest, with diagrams on the pads showing exactly where to place them. The defibrillator then assesses the condition of the patient and, if it is necessary, will instruct you to press the button to deliver a shock, which will hopefully start the heart beating correctly. It is not possible to cause any harm – the patient is effectively dead without this treatment and the defibrillator will not allow you to give a second shock if it is not needed. There were many questions asked, ably and thoroughly answered by one of the team, and Steve and Pete had many stories to tell of incidents that they had attended – they mostly told us about the happy endings!!

Everyone in the hall agreed that the village should certainly have a public access defibrillator (PAD) – indeed the ambulance service would ideally like to see one every 200metres in populated areas. Some of the comments were ‘excellent idea, needs to be pushed forward’; ‘very good, a lot I didn’t know, so very helpful.’

The purchase of a machine and a waterproof heated box would probably be in the region of £2,500 - £3,000, and the box has to be sited where there is an electrical supply available in order to keep the temperature of the machine constant. This would approximately amount to the cost of a light bulb left on all year. Possible sites will have to be considered. There are several charities from which defibrillators can be purchased, some with aftercare plans, and these will have to be looked into and costs compared.

However, if we can save just one life by obtaining this equipment, the cost will have been worth it. Fund raising will have to be done, and if anyone in the village would like to organise an event for this purpose it would be very worthwhile. We will also enquire about available grants. When all this information has been gathered, another meeting will be held in the hall to inform the village of the progress made.

A Meeting for Everyone.

Each year every Parish in the country is required by law to hold a Parish Meeting. These meetings are to enable the local population to participate in what is going on in their community. To get information, ask questions and give feedback to the local societies, groups, organisations and Parish Councils who function in the area where you live and who in some cases, receive support from the Council Tax you pay. There is a reason for everyone in a Parish to attend and just to be clear, this is not some boring AGM of the Parish Council – that comes later as part of a Parish Council Meeting.

This year approximately 20 members of the public, representatives of organisations and clubs as well as councillors attended a lively session on June 11th to hear about such things as the proposed Community Shop, the World War I Project, benefits from wind turbine discretionary funds, plans by the Parish Magazine and the activities of the BIMBOS exercise group (objective: to keep members fit, flexible and out of the graveyard!) at one end of the scale to the PreSchool at the other. South Petherwin is lucky to have a range of organisations many of which have been around for decades – just look through this magazine for examples.

So next year, whether you are new to the area or lived here for years, come along to the Annual Parish Meeting and learn something new about the place in which you live. I will endeavour to set the date well in advance and give plenty of warning so you will have no excuse!

Children's Play Area

After a long time in the planning, I am pleased to announce that a contractor for this project has been appointed. They are a local company based in St Columb called 'Outdoor Play People.' Work will commence at the end of July or during the first week of August. We will have an official opening when the children are back from the summer break. Everyone from the community will be most welcome to come along. Watch this space and notice boards around the Parish for more details. We are sure this will be a huge asset to the community.

South Petherwin Cricket Club (SPCC) has two new 'sight screens' to help the players see the ball during the game. Club chairman Derek Clements is delighted with the new equipment and would like to thank the South Petherwin (wind turbine) Community Fund and the Rotary Club for their support.

He said "The players are pleased with the new screens. Although on a windy day they have been known to blow over. Big thanks to everyone, including club supporters for funding the screens. " The season has passed half way and full results can be found on www.southpetherwin.play-cricket.com.

Holy Well at North Hill

Ask anyone if they have heard of the Holy Well at North Hill. They will probably say no. It's a very secret place but not for the intrepid walkers on May 22nd. The path through the wood was very muddy. How much further do we have to go? The reply was 'Not too far'. Don't mention the trees across the foresaid muddy path.

Finally we came to the tiny stone well.. Then we still had to climb out of the wood, over a stile, across a very steep field back to the road. A good time was had by all, although a little wet. Some finished off the afternoon with a drink or two in the Race Horse Inn.

South Petherwin Website

The South Petherwin website celebrates its 10th anniversary this year. Co founder Phil Parsons talks to Roger Pyke about the website which he designed and continues to manage.

PP Did you ever imagine the website would still be going after 10 years?

RP Quite honestly I only saw the website running for the duration of its principle cause, that of publishing the Parish Plan, so it's a surprise to be celebrating the tenth year. But then I have a certain Parish Councillor always encouraging me!

PP Is there one story that has generated more interest than any other?

RP There have been quite a few popular stories over the years, but the one that has generated the most interest is that of Horace Westlake who fell at the battle of Loos in 1915, and his bible.

Roger Pyke

PP Which part of the website is most popular?

RP It's hard to say, but I've had quite a lot of correspondence in regard to the census information, plus the Parish Council Minutes are always popular.

PP How much time does it take?

RP Well the site has evolved to what it is today and has had three major makeovers. These makeovers can take some time in preparation, but the day to day running depends on the amount of information that is passed to me. (still not enough to keep the site up to date!) On average I would spend two hours a week on its maintenance.

PP Would you say 'yes' ten years on?

RP I hope that the village having its very own website is something that people enjoy and I am proud of the fact that we were at the forefront of doing this. The site is only as good as the latest news passed on and that has always been my major battle, to keep it fresh and up to date. But overall I am glad to have been persuaded to run this project. Here's to the next ten years!

A letter from the Methodist Minister, Rev Eleanor Reddington

Dear Friends

One of the joys of being a minister is that you never know what's going to happen next. A couple of weekends ago Trebulet had a Flower Festival, and I spent much of the weekend over there enjoying the flowers and talking to lots of people. That was followed by a tough week of four funerals and a wedding. Then tonight we've had a service at Coads Green in the open air. The hymns were played by Callington Town Band, and Youthful Spirit sang some items for us. It was lovely sitting outside in the sunshine and looking at the clouds and the hills. Before the service started someone came up to me and said "You've got the wrong glasses on. You should be wearing sunglasses. This is summer, and it's Cornwall so you should enjoy the sun while we've got it."

We laughed about the comment, but the person was right – we need to enjoy each moment. How often do we stop to enjoy the beauty all around us? So often, we're so busy dashing around that we don't take any notice of what's going on around us – or maybe we just give the beauty a cursory glance as we look out of the window, perhaps to see what the weather's doing.

I stood and looked at the flowers at Trebulet, and was amazed both at the beauty of the flowers and the skill of those who arranged them. My stepmother was very good at flower-arranging, and could see what shape and way she wanted to arrange them to bring out the best in them. Her skill certainly didn't rub off on me – it's a case of stick the flowers in a vase and let them arrange themselves! Tonight it was lovely singing hymns and looking at the hills as I listened to the Band and Youthful Spirit. Just sitting quietly and absorbing the music and the beauty of the hills and sky was great.

We are very fortunate to live in a wonderful county. Yes, we grumble about the weather at times, but there is so much here for us to enjoy. Take time this week to stop and look at something – a flower, the sea, the sky or perhaps the hills. Listen to the song of the birds outside, and let yourself enjoy the moment. Maybe, like me, you'll also give thanks to the God who created the beauty and gave us the ability to appreciate his wonderful world.

Eleanor

Kisiizi Parents School Uganda 2014

Two Teaching Assistants from South Petherwin School recently visited Kisiizi Parents School in Uganda forging further links between the schools. Here Helen Masters gives a personal account of their experience.

WOW! What an amazing experience! After an incredibly long journey through busy chaotic cities, shanty towns, small rural villages and amazing lush countryside we eventually arrived in Kisiizi. It is situated in a very rural mountainous area in the far south west of Uganda. The school contains 350 children, two hundred of whom are boarders, of which 120 are orphans. It is a private, fee paying school as most schools are in Uganda.

What a welcome we had from the director, staff and children! They were so pleased to see us and excited to find out all about England and our school. The children were shy and giggly to start with, but soon became bolder asking questions and wanting to touch us, to see if we felt the same as them. We were shown around the school, a simple mud building with a metal sheet roof and mud floors set on the side of a steep hill. The classrooms were small and cramped with wooden desks and benches, the only things on the walls were homemade information posters. Each class had up to 55 children. As we went into each class the children stood up and said, "Welcome visitors, how are you? We are pleased to see you at our school." or they sang a welcome song.

All the children seemed so happy, very keen to learn and worked silently. Most of the lessons involved the teacher saying information and the children chanting it back to them, lots of repetition to help them remember facts, because there is only one text book and that is for the teacher. The children work hard 7.30am- 5.30pm every day and 9-1pm on Saturdays. Some of the year six children also go back to school from 7pm -10pm in the evenings. I can't see our children wanting to be at school that long! The children sit end of year exams which they must pass to move on to the next year. This meant that there were children up to 16 years old in the primary school!

Whilst we were at the school we had the opportunity to teach each of the nine classes using art resources that South Petherwin parents, children and staff had donated. We had taken out postcards made by our children with a view from their window drawn or painted on the front and an explanation about the view and details about themselves on the back. (A snapshot of their life.) We took out 350 blank postcards so that we could do the same with the Ugandan children to bring home to show our children. We had to teach them how to use paints as they had never seen or used them before. There was much excitement. The standard of their drawing and writing was incredible. When we taught the baby class-3year olds we made stick puppets with them, luckily I had taken out lolly sticks, feathers, glue and furry bobbles. We thought this would be better for them because they have no toys or resources

Pre School Tenth Anniversary

South Petherwin pre-school will be celebrating their 20th anniversary in October.

If anyone has any photo's or memories of their time at the pre-school please drop them into us. We will be holding an open day to celebrate this and want to include a memory wall.
Further details to follow and everyone welcome

Parish Bench

When you walk around the Parish have you ever thought, "I wish there was a bench there so I could sit to admire the view and take a breather"? Some years ago the Parish Council received a grant used to purchase two benches for the benefit of residents. One bench was placed at the junction of the road to Kennards House and the lane towards Treguddick. The other bench has been in storage and needs to be placed. The Parish Council is asking for your ideas as to where this should be. It could be on a verge, private land accessible to the public or perhaps you have other ideas?

Please send your suggestions to the Parish Clerk by email to- spparsclerk@icloud.com or by post. The final location will be subject to approval by the Council, Highways or landowner as appropriate.

Helen meeting some of the children before school begins so it was great to see them play with their finished puppets (after we had shown them what to do!) The smiles and laughter were so rewarding.

On Sunday we went to the boarding house to join in with the service. It was delivered by the children for the children and apart from the house mother we were the only adults present. We could hear the drumming and singing along the road before we got there. As we got closer it got louder and louder. Entering the dormitory the singing was so loud and filled with joy, I got goose bumps. Two hundred children dancing barefoot in time to traditional African drums, singing Hymns I recognised but which sounded so much better. The preacher was a 12 year old boy, with such charisma, who wants to be a preacher when he is older. I will never forget those 2 1/2 hours.

In the afternoon Darren and I took the boarders to a playing field a short walk away. The school is allowed to use it one afternoon a week because it belongs to another school. We looked like pied pipers walking up the hill with two hundred children following us! We taught them some English games and they showed us some traditional Ugandan games. It was a very happy fun filled afternoon.

Everywhere we went in Uganda people were so friendly, shaking our hands and asking if we were enjoying their country. Thanking us for visiting. It was an amazing trip and I feel so privileged to have had the opportunity. I would love to return and help with building a new school. We look forward to Justus and Patrick, two Kisiizi teachers visiting us in the Autumn.

New Skittle Alley for South Petherwin!

The skittles club has been going for 25 years with equipment made and obtained by founder members. With the assistance of South Petherwin (wind turbine) Community Fund and members subscriptions we have managed to purchase a new skittle alley complete with balls and pins. Hopefully this might last as long as the previous items. It is a tribute to the makers of the original that it has lasted so long with regular weekly use.

We have also renamed one of the competitions "The Buckledee King Pin Cup" after Bob Buckledee, one of the founder members. When replacing the lettering it was noticed that Bob had been the first winner of the competition under its former title. So very appropriate we thought. Unfortunately, Bob is not too well at present and although he now lives at Egloskerry, many who have been here for some time will remember him and how active he was when living in the Parish.

Peter Northmore

Lewis Wadey and Lauren Jones,
both of South Petherwin, were married on Saturday 12th July.

The wedding took place at Launceston Town Hall with photos on the Castle Green.
Then it was off to Lifton Strawberry Fields for the reception and celebration!

We would like to wish them all the very best for their future together.
